Notes

The Graveyard Plan was created from a plan of the churchyard dated 1900 which has been updated by hand with later burials. This has been cross-referenced to a historic survey of the visible inscriptions created by the Birmingham and Midland Society for Genealogy and Heraldry in 2012. Where possible, entries have also been cross-checked with the burial register. Obviously with the passage time many of the graves have become overgrown and inscriptions eroded and so the accuracy of the list of names and dates will inevitably contain some blanks and best guesses.

This document and the plan are also published on our website at <http://rowingtonrecords.com/Church>

A full version of the plan is published there which can be zoomed to make it easier to read the numbers

Graveyard Plans

The following plans are based on the beautiful plan that was created in 1900 by Thomas Turner from Birmingham. This still exists but is now very fragile. Over the years new graves have been added to it by hand and it has gradually become cluttered and rather unusable.

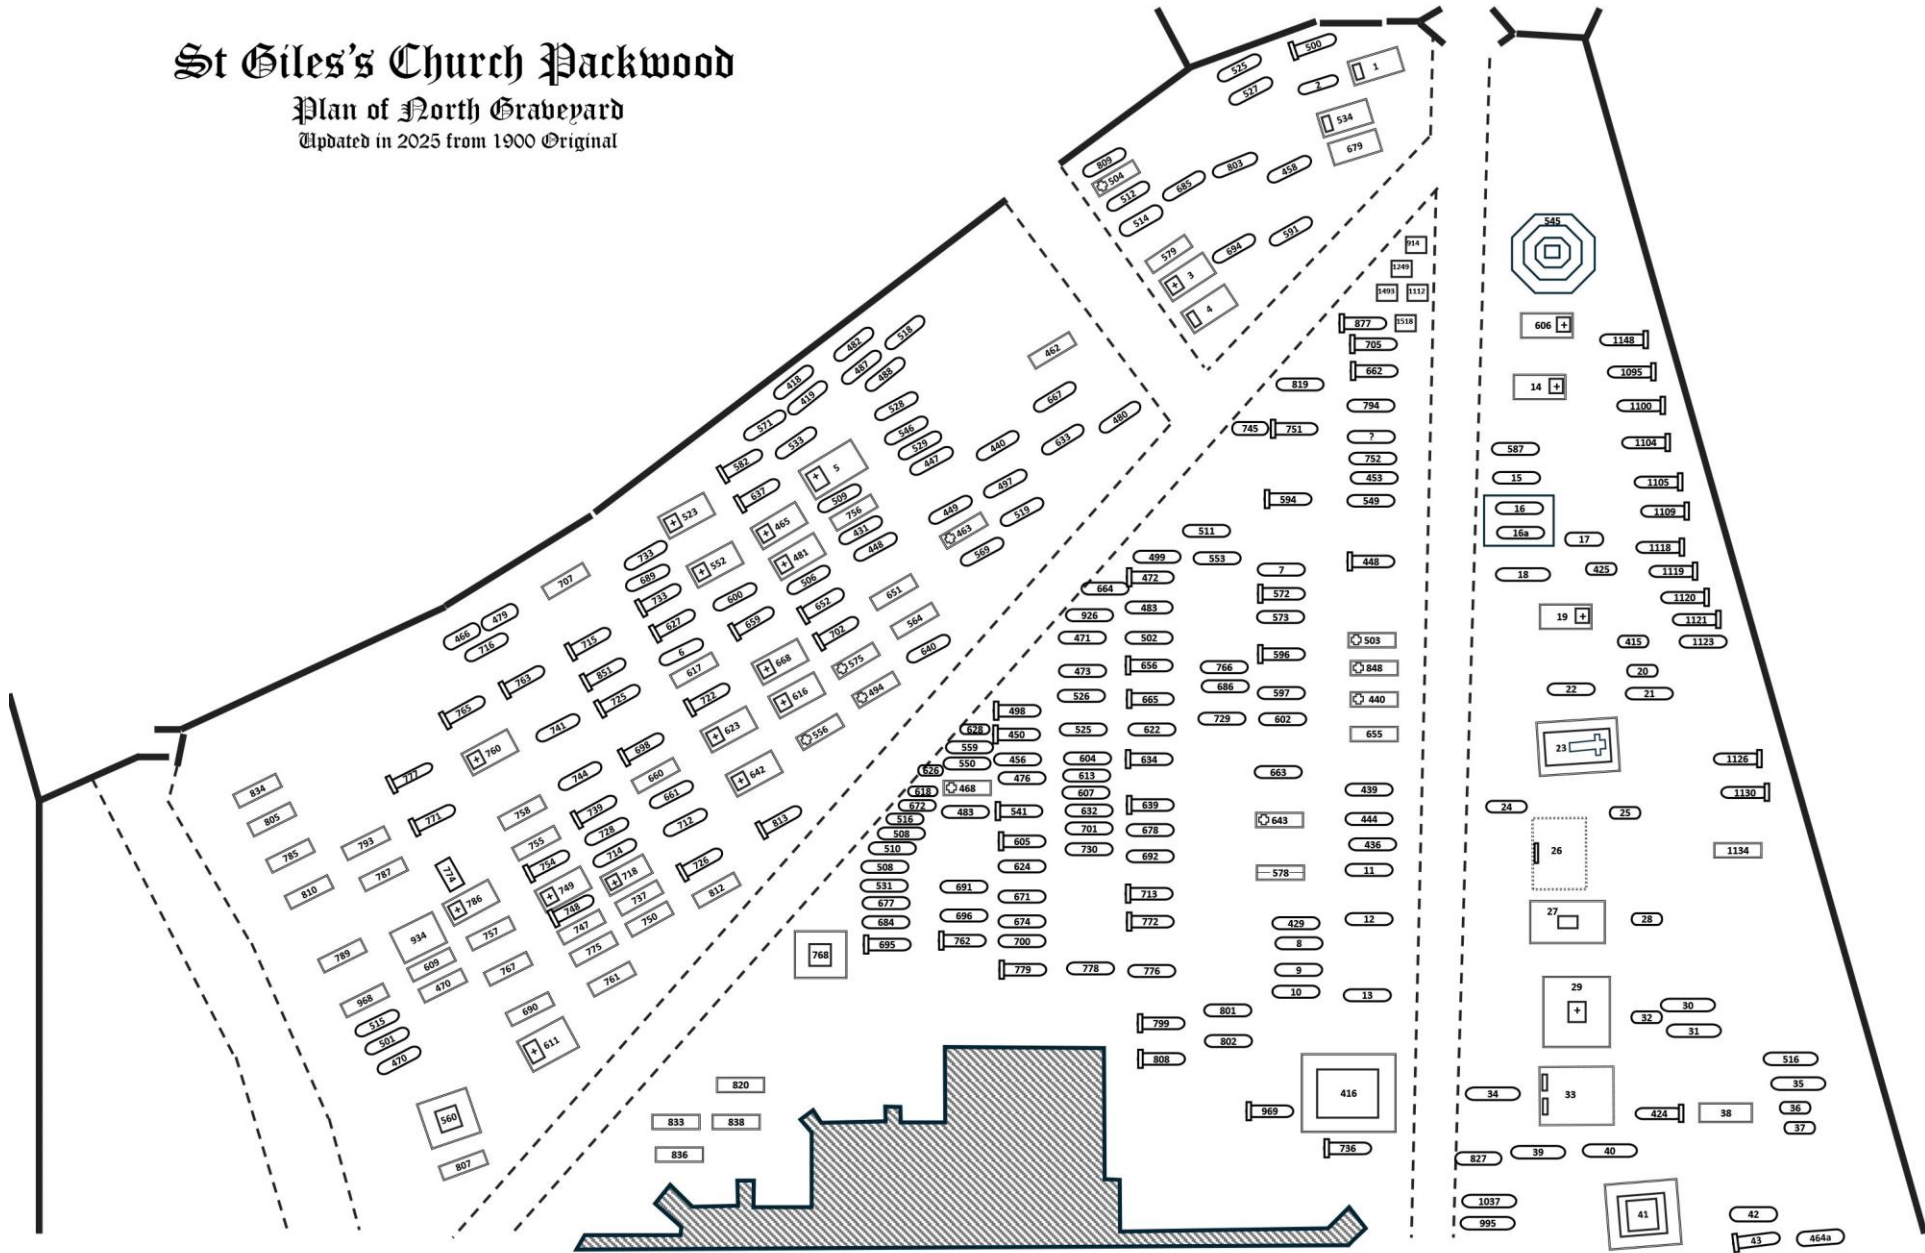

The new plan was created basically by tracing over the old one and then augmenting by a combination of plotting what is still visible on the ground, positioning using aerial photography, and a modest amount of educated guesswork. It will not be 100% accurate, but it is a good approximation.

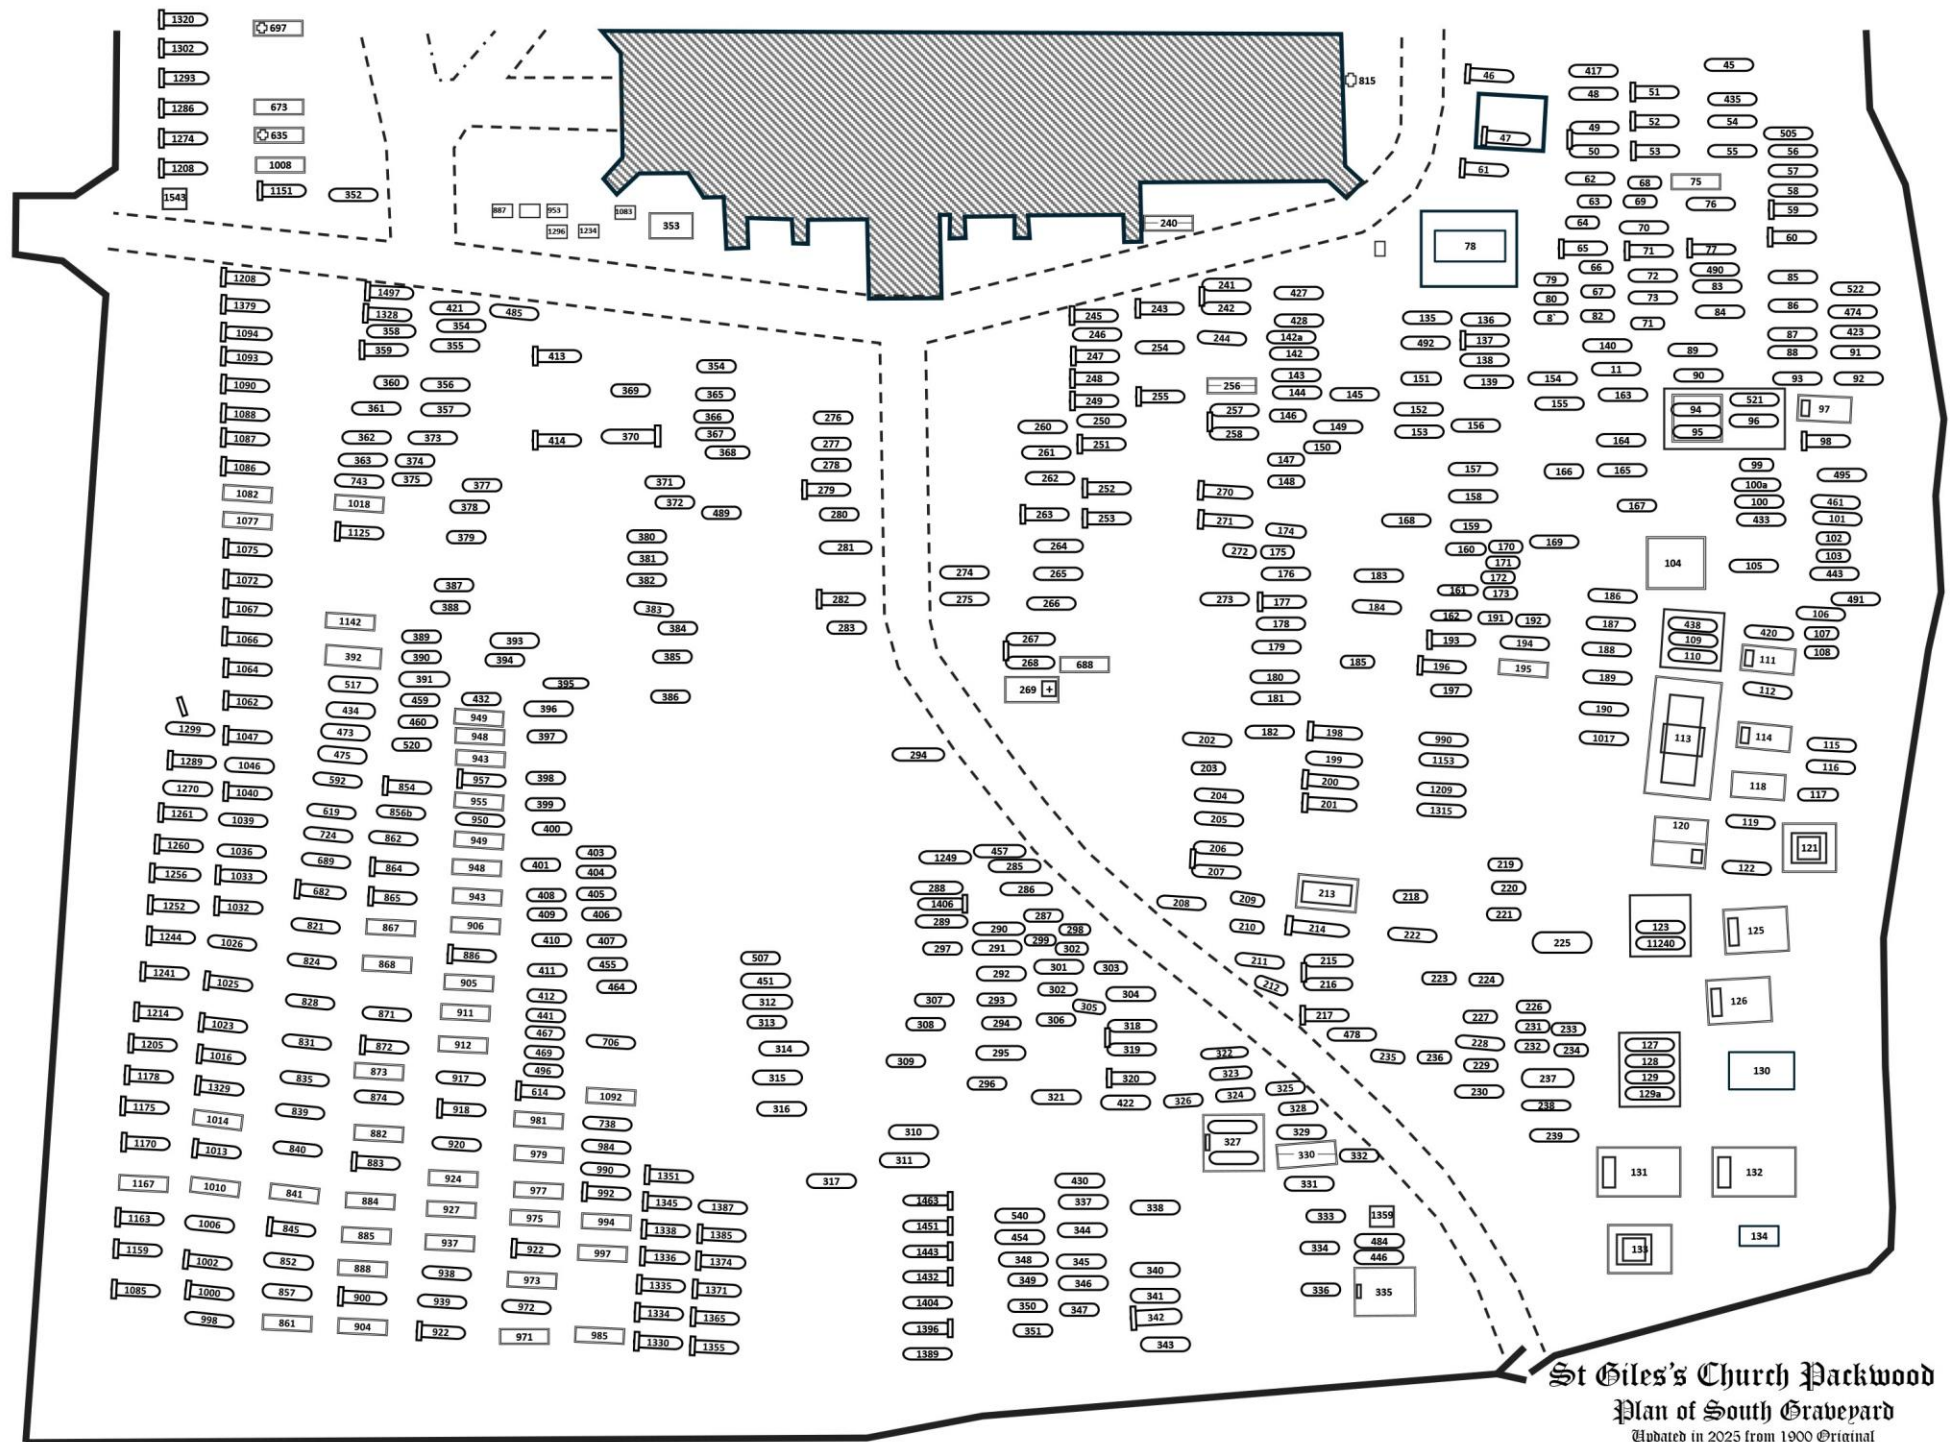

Many of the old graves shown on the 1900 map are no longer visible but their approximate position is shown to preserve the historical record. Unmarked graves are shown as a simple elongated oval enclosing the burial number. Graves with a border marker are shown as a rectangle, other shapes indicate those with headstones or crosses, and the old graves with table tombs, pillars and railings copy the way they were shown on the 1900 plan.
